

Continent

The world is split into seven large areas called continents.

Oceans

An ocean is a huge body of salt water. It is divided into five sections.

Coastal

The area where sea and land meet is called coastal.

Equator

It is an imaginary line around. It divides earth into two equal parts. Countries near the equator are very hot.

Desert

A large region of dry land that gets very little rain each year. Only few animals and plants live in desert.

Compass

A compass is a navigation tool which shows directions (North, East, South and West).

Island

Large region of land that is surrounded by water.

Savannah

A grassy plain in tropical and subtropical regions, with few trees.

